

Rams Schedule Four Pre-League Home Games

The World Champion Cleveland Browns will be among four National Football League rivals to visit the Coliseum this year for pre-season games with the Rams.

The five-game, pre-league slate also will feature Dallas, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco and only the game with the Bears will be an out-of-towner.

Opening the schedule on Saturday night, August 14, is the annual charity game with the Dallas Cowboys, who will show off rookie quarterbacks Craig Morton of California and Jerry Rhome of Tulsa, plus "world's fastest human" Bob Hayes.

The highly-publicized trio will be able to play because the delayed-start NFL schedule places the Chicago All-Star Game one full week ahead of the Ram opener.

The Browns follow the Cowboys into the Coliseum on Aug. 21 with such stars as Gary Collins, Jimmy Brown and Frank Ryan in tow. Then, the Rams travel to Nashville to face hometown hero Billy Wade and the Bears. This game tentatively is set for Aug. 28.

Final two dates bring the Philadelphia Eagles and traditional rival San Francisco to the Coliseum for night games on Sept. 4 and Sept. 11. All four home games will begin at 8:05.

The Rams' 1965 pre-season schedule:

- August 14—Dallas at Coliseum
- August 21—Cleveland at Coliseum
- August 28—Chicago at Nashville
- Sept. 4—Philadelphia at Coliseum
- Sept. 11—San Francisco at Coliseum
